

1.58 Rights and concessions

Just for the sake of history the following descriptions are reproduced from Shri S.G.Panda's Plan/G.C.Sahu's Scheme /Scheme of ex-Zamindari forests.

Rights and concessions in Reserved Forests
(excluding those of ex-Sonepur State)

1.59 Rights

Statement of claims to right and orders passed thereon in Katikala reserved forest.

1.63 Rights and concessions in areas of PRFs/DPPs

These blocks have been carved out of the ex-zamindari Forests which were transferred to Forest Department on abolition of following Zamindaries.

Rampur, Raipur, Kudabega, Loira, Tampargath, Jujumura, Loisingh, Paharasrigida, Barpali, Parkulunda, Bheden, Kharsel

These forests were locally known as 'Zapiti' jungles and were being worked out by the owners prior to abolition of Zamindari in the 1957 according to the Rules for the management of the Zamindari and Malguzary forests issued in 1930. The zapiti forest blocks of Raipur ex-zamindari were declared "Protected forests" under orders of Deputy Commissioner of Sambalpur on the 11th of August 1927 in Revenue case No. 5/11-250 of 1925-26. As regards 'Zapiti Forests' of other ex-zamindaries, similar notifications are not available.

1.64 However no rights of any kind were admitted in these blocks. The villagers were allowed to remove certain forest produce for their own consumption on payment of commutation fees. In Kudabega ex-zamindari, the commutation fee levied for fire wood was at the rate of Rs. 0-8-0 per cart load and Rs. 0-2-0 for a plough-read. Kumhar, Kamars (Blacksmith) and Goldsmiths were allowed to remove firewood on annual payment of Rs. 1-8-0 per individual. An annual grazing fee was, for goat Rs. 0-4-0, buffalo Rs. 0-2-0 and bullock Rs. 0-1-0 per head. Such schedule of rates for other ex-zamindaries are not available relating to the period prior to the abolition of zamindaries. After abolition of zamindaries and taking over of management by the Forest Department no such concessions were allowed in the zapiti forests. The concessions mentioned above were allowed in Badjungles only on payment of different rates for different produce according to the schedule of rates fixed for the division by the Government.

Concessions are limited to permission for all villagers to remove fruits and flowers for their bonafide personal consumption and in addition to the tenants of forest villages the grant of free fire wood and bamboos for bonafide consumption and privilege of free grazing provided that when any forest produce of a commercial value is concerned the quantity is limited to 1 seer (0.94 kg) at a time. Free grants of timber, bamboos and thatch-grass are made in times of natural calamity such as fire and flood. The value of these free grants is generally under Rupees 500 in the year of calamity in ex-Sambalpur Division and Rupees 50 in ex-Barapahar Division vide para 44 of the 1941 Sambalpur Plan and para 32 of the 1931 Sambalpur West Division Plan. The Revenue Divisional Commissioner has since accepted a proposal that grant should be made in cash from discretionary grant placed at the disposal of the District Collector. In future free grants should be limited to petty ones given by forest officers for religious, charitable or educational purposes. The schedule of rates which has been duly approved by the Government for the division, may be treated as a part of this Plan.

1.61 Right of way

The rights of way to the various temples inside reserved forests where there is daily worship or a mela held annually and over forest roads are as under:

(1) There are the Lord Shiva temples at Budharaja, Laxmidungri and Chandidungri hills where daily worship and annual melas are held during the Sivaratri festival. No right of way has been admitted but the right is allowed without particular permission being asked for or granted.

(2) In Laddera block, the temple of Gosainath is occasionally visited for worshipping the deity especially in October and November and in Tabla block 'Melas' are held annually for two days in February - March. No right of way is admitted in both these cases but permission for worshipping and melas is annually asked for and granted.

(3) Under Notification No. 5527-R. dated the 31st July 1913, right of way over the then existing roads in the reserved forest for the public was recognised.
